NEW OFFICE BUILDING IS A MODEL ONE

There is a new office building in Grimsby that a whole host of citizens would just like to own as a home once they had observed the beautiful panel work, the trim and the general lay-out of the building.

This new set of offices is to be seen at the Peninsula Lumber and Supplies plant on Ontario and Clarke streets. The building is on Clarke street and faces east into the mill yard.

Of frame construction it is 24x24, two storeys with an eight foot basement which will be used for storage. On the main floor you first enter a vestibule and then the large, well lighted show room. This room is panelled with various types of plywood in several different finishes. The ceiling is of white Donacanna ceiling squares. The floors are Mastic Tile bordered with hardwood. Off the main show room are two other large rooms both panelled with various types of other board products. The toilet is finished in tile.

Upstairs will be found the accounting office and a store room. These rooms are walled with Gyproc board tinted with Gyptex. As will be noted in the picture there are windows at all four corners of

BATTLE IS LOOMING OVER THE COUNTY ASSESSMENT FOR 1947

Grantham Township May Appeal To The Courts Over Their Increase Of $152,900—Grimsby Is Increased $37,885—North Grimsby Upped $21,532.

Lincoln County Council closed the June sessions in record time Tuesday, following a wordy battle over the 1947 equalized assessments and amid rumors that the Township of Grantham would appeal to the courts against the figure for it by the county. Warden W. L. Patterson, of Niagara-on-the-Lake, opened the sessions at 10:30 in the morning and adjourned the council at 4:30 p.m.

Deputy Reeve Ivan D. Buchanan, of Grantham, presented the report of the assessment committee late in the afternoon and despite the heated argument which arose, council gave approval to the report as it was submitted.

The proposed equalized assessments for 1947 are as follows: Niagara-on-the-Lake, $779,041, an increase of $226 over 1946; Merrit-

Elwood Comfort, Principal Of Lower Thirty School, Retiring After Long Service—23 Years At Thirty.

After 23 years as principal of the lower Thirty school, Clinton township, and this year completing 43 years in the profession, Elwood Comfort is retiring at the end of the week.

As a small token of their appreciation for the services he has given to the Thirty school district and to musical organizations within the county, present pupils, ex-pupils and district friends gathered at the school on Thursday evening, where an impromptu program was carried out.

The St. Catharines-Lincoln Health Unit expects to lose at least four nurses at the end of this month and prospects for employing new ones by next autumn are not very bright. Dr. D. V. Currey, chief medical officer of health, stated last week.

Declaring that the shortage of nurses was affecting all hospitals, health units and other institutions. Dr. Currey said that Ontario could absorb 2500 nurses without difficulty at the present time. He said there was keen competition among

Pacific Coast Strawberry Picker Claims He Pulled Off 333 Quarts In 10 Hours.

You can read the following news despatch from the Pacific Coast and draw your own conclusions:

Pete Klassen, 16, of Suman in the Fraser Valley, claims the Canadian title with a record of 418 pounds picked in one day—a feat that rewarded him with $16.60.

That boy, Klassen, must be some boy. He must pick with his toes as well as his fingers. Also, he must have a turn of speed comparative to a jet-propelled plane.

By actual weight a quart box of Grimsby strawberries average one pound four ounces, net. (the box weighs two ounces, or one and one-quarter pounds.

A NEW TYPE OF FUEL ARRIVES IN GRIMSBY

Peninsula Lumber Brings In A Carload Of Logs That Can Be Burned Any Place.

There is a new type of fuel in Grimsby. A whole carload of it arrived at the yards of the Peninsula Lumber and Supplies last Friday and more carloads are in transit.

According to Councillor Bob Johnson this fuel throws off a tremendous heat whether used in a fireplace, cook stove or furnace. There is no dirt from its use, no soot, no ashes, no clinkers, in fact practically nothing except put it in the fire and let it go.

This fuel is made of sawdust compressed into small logs under tremendous hydraulic pressure. Each log is 12 inches long and six inches in circumference.

Citizens are invited to visit the Peninsula yards and see this new product and secure a sample log.

POSTAL FACILITIES ARE USED BY DEPARTMENTS

First Day Covers Of New Citizenship Stamp Will Only Be Available At Ottawa Post Office.

The basic task of the Canadian Postal Service is the handling and transmission of mail matter. In discharge of this function, it maintains a wide variety of services, all of which affect intimately almost every phase of our cultural, social, economic and commercial life.

Because of the wide-spread nature of its facilities, it has been found expedient for the Post Office to assist other government departments in the performance of specific tasks. Examples of these among many are the sale of Unemployment Insurance stamps, Radio Licenses, applications for Passports, and the handling of Government Annuities, etc.

NEW CITIZENSHIP STAMP

First Day Covers for the new Citizenship Stamp will only be available at the Ottawa Post Office. The regular cancellation of

HERE'S A REAL OLD TIMER

Unless you are past 60 years of age you will not to recognize anyone in this picture for the photo itself is 52 years old. This was a family gathering of the Beamer clan and a large percentage of the people in the group have passed to their last reward. There are still several in the group that are alive and happy. Note the quaint dress of both the men and the women. There are, no doubt, a large number of people in the district who will be able to pick out a large number of these people. We have no list of them and the person who gave us the picture has no list.

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

THE INFANT PARADE

The population of youthful life is increasing rapidly, according to statistics, and evidences of this growth can be seen in Grimsby as the little folks are wheeled or led along the walks. The infants look mighty fine as they are dolled up in their pretty garments and coverings, and they draw admiring comments from the people met.

Friends and acquaintances and strangers stop to look at the cute little infants. Modern ideas of child feeding and care are producing a fine looking generation of babies, and they do great credit to the treatment they have received.

As people stop to look at the babies their friends are pushing around the walks, there are various discussions as to whom the youngster looks like. Some will say he takes after Ma, but some may think they see the lineaments of Pop's family in his youthful style.

There is general admiration of the youngsters, and people will say that he or she is about the best ever. The Canadian people love to go, and they have their going shoes on a good part of the time. The baby gets his first taste of going as he is pushed around in his carriage, and the sense of motion and seeing new thing makes him or her very happy.

DEATH STALKS THE HIGHWAYS

Ontario motor vehicle fatalities were greater last month than in any May since 1939, when 56 persons were killed. The story of highway death written into our newspapers last month shows a total of 53 killed, a dreadful toll.

No age group escaped. Babies of three years and oldsters of 88 appear in the total. Drivers, riders and pedestrians are all included.

The roads and highways of the Province carry a constant threat of death and injury. In the huge machine of Ontario traffic movement, there is no substitute for care, courtesy and common sense.

Over the past 10 years the June record on highway accidents has invariably risen above the May figures. The alarming increase in last month's death toll which was at a rate of 1 person every 14 hours, indicates clearly the need of greater highway care.

The full force of our summer traffic has not been felt yet. It includes what is probably the world's greatest non-resident motor vehicle movement.

Referring to this season upswing in traffic accidents in the Province, the Hon. George H. Doucett, Minister of Highways, stated, "our traffic safety problem is extremely serious. We have not arrived at the midsummer traffic peak, still on one May week end the Ontario press reported 14 persons killed. Increased efforts by all accident prevention agencies, supported by drivers and pedestrians throughout the Province is necessary if an all-time accident peak during July and August is to be avoided."

BATHTUB REFORM

Alfred P. Cate, of Fitchburg, Mass., thinks there ought to be an easier way of getting in and out of a bathtub. So he's invented a tub with a door in the side. Cate describes his hinged fixture as a slip-proof aid to "the aged, the crippled and the young" as well as a boon to persons of all ages who are just plain lazy.

The Cate invention would seem to have its points. Only if it's intended to revolutionize bathtub design, it doesn't go nearly far enough. It strikes us that the standard model tub well might be improved in lots of ways, from the angles of both utility and greater comfort while lolling in the water.

Thus we would like to see Mr. Cate and the other bathtub-conscious inventors turn out a tub with a downy-soft, built-in headrest, a reading rack with lamp attached, a wall button making it unnecessary to reach for the hot water tap while submerged, and an automatic back washer. An attached secessory for applying a nonskid coating to the otherwise slippery soap also would be a widely hailed innovation.

These improvements, we feel sure, would be the greatest advances in bathing since the rainwater barrel went out of fashion. And, for some of us, they might even make Saturday night worth looking forward to.

TRAIN WHISTLES

They are tampering with one of the institutions of our country.

There is a movement to do away with a train whistling at crossings where it isn't necessary.

This may be all right but there is something more insidious.

Modern Diesel engines have no whistles—just a noise like a bullfrog with a bad cold.

The countryside would never seem the same without the plaintive salutes of the railway locomotives.

With them came our first study of science. We used to lean on a hoe and wonder why you always saw two long plumes and two short plumes of white smoke before you heard the first sound.

Then again the train whistles are the farmers' timepieces. A passenger used to whistle at the crossings at 11:30 a.m., and 5:30 p.m. We had it down to a science just the amount of any farm work we could do in that last half hour before quitting time.

Then we used to lie in bed of a summer night and listen to that poignant Whooo-whooo-whooo and speculate about the people on the train and where they were going.

There are plenty of noises the reformers can eliminate, including some of the reformers' spouting, without trying to muzzle the train whistles.

THE AMERICAN DOLLAR

With the prospect this year of Canada having an adverse balance of trade, that means in effect a shortage of United States dollars, no less than the astounding total of $900,000,000, the importance of the tourist dollar is self-evident. Last week a casual trip to Victoria Park, Niagara Falls, gave rise, on due inspection, to the expectation that this surely will be a banner year in tourist revenue.

The real story, in brief, was that motor car license plates revealed no less than half the States of the Union represented in the wide parking spaces at park, Texas, California, South Carolina, Wisconsin, Dakota and all down the line, with States nearest to Canada very heavily represented, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and, of course, New York. There were many visitors from Illinois and Michigan. This condition obtains before schools have closed in the United States, and after such closing, it will be greatly accentuated.

Victoria Park never in its long history has looked better and with the Rainbow Bridge, the Oakes Park and its extension, Ontario has an asset which can't be measured in tens of millions. And incidentally there never has been more water pouring down the Niagara River to make the Falls so impressive. At 5:30 p.m. there was a perfect rainbow.

Over the past 10 years the June record on highway accidents has invariably risen above the May figures. The alarming increase in last month's death toll which was at a rate of 1 person every 14 hours, indicates clearly the need of greater highway care.

The full force of our summer traffic has not been felt yet. It includes what is probably the world's greatest non-resident motor vehicle movement.

With the lights on, with the soft summer nights and with the Churchill carillon, surely there will be glamour this year for thousands of tourists from home and abroad.

The horticultural gift from Holland has been put to bed, with its hundreds of rhododendrons, now going out of bloom. But what a show in years to come when these plants find a permanent berth in their magnificent setting.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR SHOOTING SAFETY

In an effort to curb shooting accidents, the Canadian Small Bore Association has issued the following ten commandments for shooting safety:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.

2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with action open, into your automobile, camp or home.

3. Be sure the barrel and action are always clear of obstructions.

4. Always carry your gun so you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble.

5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

6. Never point a gun at anything you do not wish to shoot.

7. Never leave a gun unattended unless you first unload it.

8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.

9. Never shoot at a flat surface or the surface of water.

10. Do not mix gunpowder, alcohol and gasoline.

TRY IT ONCE

Did you ever try to get information from a member of parliament?

Perhaps you had better luck than the farmer who is the hero of the story told by Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia upon himself.

Here it is:

"I wrote to you for some information on medical herbs and you have sent me a whole batch of bulletins on chicken raising. I know all I want to know about chickens. What has chickens got to do with medicinal herbs?

"On March 18, 1894, forty-four years ago, I wrote to my congressman for information on pecan trees and their care and he sent me bulletins on Belgian rabbits and guinea pigs. What has rabbits and guinea pigs got to do with pecans?

"I am an old man 72 years old, old enough to know better than to write to a senator or congressman. Two times 44 years apart, I get the same kind of a deal. Serves me right."—Midland Free Press.

Horses have taken their bow from central London. They made a colorful display at the London cart-horse society's annual parade in Regents Park. But now they are banned from certain streets under new city-wide regulations to cut down the traffic jams which have been lengthening steadily since private cars came onto the roads after the war.

Along with handcarts and other vehicles travelling at less than eight miles an hour, horse-drawn vehicles are banned from the West-End districts of Haymarket, Old Bond Street, New Oxford Street, and parts of Regent Street and High Holborn during heavy traffic hours.

"No waiting" streets form another part of the speed-up plan. Owing to the difficulty of supplying signs, these streets today are marked by yellow bands round lampposts.

Your taxicab cannot wait while you "just pop in" to do some small errand. Even goods vehicles are allowed only 20 minutes for unloading and loading. The regulations led to whimsical headlines about the "yellow peril" in some newspapers here.

Street hawkers no longer are allowed to peddle their goods in the streets. Only where they have a special license to sell, as in the case of street markets, will street traders be allowed.

This will be a serious blow to a number of these men who recently have been doing a good trade in luxury fruits at high prices.

Transport Minister Albert Barnes, after whom the new regulations are named, proposes to apply similar restrictions later to certain streets in the City of London.

This will mean the disappearance of the daily processions of horses which are taken to drink at the water trough outside St. Mary le Strand church. No more will passers-by see the great dapple-grays pulling railway drays, or the chestnuts which have delivered the morning milk, or the coster ponies pulling carts ablaze with potted flowers from Covent Garden market.

Horses are counted among the City's working population and as such must have their ration cards. But cards are allowed only for horses engaged on essential transport. This means that carriage horses or those which "hack" in Rotten Row are not allowed to have "cards" in the summer months.

Even though hay and straw are unrationed, not many people in London can keep a horse for the fun of it. A horse must earn his keep like everybody else in Great Britain these days.

Medieval conditions still govern another form of London transport—that of the Thames lightermen or watermen. These are the men who navigate the lighters which can be seen going upstream, sometimes as many as six in a train, towed behind tugs.

With the exception of Waremen—those born in Ware, Hertfordshire—all Thames lightermen must have a license from the Port of London Authority, whose powers are vested in the Watermen's Company.

The licensing system dates from the days of the Craft Guilds. Boys are bound under indenture to a freeman of the Watermen's Company for periods of five to seven years. They have to appear (with parents and proposed master) before a court at the Watermen's Hall for binding.

After a two-year apprenticeship the boy comes before the court again. If he has proved efficient he is granted a license to "navigate."

Finally, if he is capable and industrious in his apprenticeship, he is granted "the freedom of the river" and of the Watermen's Company.

What has become of Don Marshall and the Chamber of Commerce? Just spraying weeds doesn't build a TOWN. Come in an talk to me some time.

One half of Grimsby went North over the weekend. The other half, "Little Whistler," goes North this week for two months. The fishes are just waiting. They love his bait.

Old Tom Warner had the right dope. The pair of white pants that I had on, Sunday, were 21 years old. Outside of myself, they are the only good thing that ever came out of Florida.

American tourists trying to cross the street on Saturday afternoon. Not realizing that they are in the busiest and best Town in Canada, they cannot understand where all the traffic is coming from.

An observing Old Wolf said to me the other day, "I think Peggy O'Neill is getting flat-footed. In fact I think by the time the summer season is over she will be worn down to her second pair of ankles."

"Red" Graham thinks that just because he called Sept. of Works "Jimmy" Lawrie in to look his garden over and "Jimmy" said it was a pippin, that it is a pippin. Doesn't "Red" realize that "Jimmy" is a municipal diplomat.

If there is any other Town in Canada, anywhere near the size of Grimsby, that can show me two as fine drug stores as we possess, and that between them have 12 people on their payroll, then I want to know where that dump is. This is only one sign of the business of Grimsby.

Unbelievable, but true. Last Friday afternoon customers of Milliard's Drug Store got the shock of their lives when they observed a counter stacked with boxes of chocolates made by the three leading bon-bon manufacturers in Canada. Not in eight years have the public seen a sight like this.

Fires are terrible things. They not only cause loss of property but at times they take a toll of the most precious thing in the world, LIFE. MEMORIES

(By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS)

Life is a profit and loss account. In business one can actually lose all—but not in life. In life one can lose money, friends, material possessions, and even his health—but still he has his memories! You can not lose them.

While driving my car to and from my office—a distance of about 25 miles—I think of the old jump-seat, canopy top carriage that I used to keep in tip-top style, and of Daley, our lovely little pony. A trip into the country over the old unpaved roads meant an entire day when 25 miles were consumed! Now that same distance is covered in less than an hour over smooth, dustless roads. Yet the memory of those days is most pleasant.

What does the city chap to-day know of the days of autumn after frost, when hunting for hazel nuts, walnuts and butternuts, as well as hickory nuts, brought such a thrill to the boy? The old waiting trough in the little town, and long rows of horses and buggies from the country, hitched there for the day, and healthy farming folk walking through the town—that used to thrill me. I liked to be on the streets those days and hail the strangers and talk with them, getting their ideas, which were always sound and honest.

Ploughing a field from 7 in the morning until 7 in the evening did not seem such a hard task to me, even though the pay was but $20 a month with board and room, for there was the wholesome country air, the company of a faithful team of horses, and a cool jug of water hidden in the foliage of an old rail fence at the end of each furrow, and the song of birds, happy in their free life. The memory of those days is refreshing.

The red-cheeked table cloth, the cookie jar, the church shade, full of teams on Sunday, the family worship hour, the talkative blacksmith, who was the Sunday school superintendent; the town marshal, who went around proudly displaying his big star on his great breast; the familiar odour of the drug store, which was a drug store and not a novelty or eating place, as now. School days when we used to get together and predict who would some time be famous, or rich!

Thank God that we are endowed with memories—memories which grow rich with the years. They alone last out life.

(By J. V. McAREE, in The Globe and Mail)

In recent years it has been the practice of jewellers to store in Toronto to diminish or combine. Keats, however, is expanding, and has taken over the ground floor formerly occupied by Fairweather's, who will retain their upper floors. It is a coincidence that both firms have been in business for eighty years, Keats for most of that time on Yonge St. We can remember when there were almost as many jewelry shops in Toronto as butcher shops, for in those days it was the twin ambition of every up-and-coming young man to have a solid gold watch and a solitaire diamond ring. Such ambitions may continue to inspire some of them, but not enough to justify the number of shops where they were sold around the turn of the century. Keats is one of the oldest firms; and handles a variety of stock un-dreamed of by its founder. Fairweather's used to have a fur trading post in the North and bartered with the Indians. It is recorded that one year the trader at the post died in December, but news of the event did not reach Toronto until March. It is recalled by Neil MacDonnell, an old friend of ours, and secretary to Mr. Fairweather, that pictures had with ostrich plumes were sold in the store for $45 some forty odd years ago; and a Russian noble trimmed hat went for $25.

With the assistance of Miss Margaret Ness we have been looking at some gleanings from the Toronto newspapers of the time the two firms came into existence, and note in the Daily Leader that a team of horses ran away near the Union Station.

and that one of them was injured. Attention is called to another venerable Toronto institution in the announcement of a meet of the Toronto hounds. We get a glimpse of real estate values when we read an advertisement: "House to Rent—Six rooms and back kitchen with excellent garden and two wood sheds. All rooms have been newly papered. Rent, $60 a year (off Spadina Ave.)" Yes, that's right; per year, not per week or per month. Another advertiser has a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year announcement, calling attention to Christmas meals. It appeared on December 28. Those were more leisurely times, as we have been told.

The arrest of a woman named Mary Dwyer for using abusive language to a detective was considered worth mentioning. The arrest was made by Constable Breckenreed, who, we presume, might have been the Inspector Breckenreed at No. 4 Police Station, whom we remember as a boy. Another item concerned a woman who was arrested for stealing a waterfall from a boarder. We do not know what a waterfall is, but we take it for granted that it had something to do with a crime wave. We note an account of what was described as a "melancholy accident" which befell a young woman in Nelson Township whose hoop skirt caught in a circular saw, the first time we ever heard of the two things being thus brought into juxtaposition. The Globe directed public attention to "the disgraceful condition of the east side of Jarvis St. between Queen and Shuter Sts." caused by an accumulation of dirt. The successor of The Globe, if called upon to comment, might have considerably extended the territory and not confined it to one side of the street. Under the heading, "An Uncivilized Thief," The Globe also reported that a woman named White, while engaged in an altercation with a companion, "tore that most precious of all adornments from her person, the chignon, and taking a fancy to the attractive article, made off with it." We had to consult a dictionary before learning that a chignon is a mass of false hair.

The Leader thought that the fainting of a soldier on the street was worth chronicling, even though it knew that this was not an uncommon occurrence to the unfortunate fellow. The Globe announced a forthcoming lecture on spiritualism thus: "Dr. Van Vleck, a gentleman said to be fully up in all the mysteries of spiritualism, intends airing this humbug in the Music Hall this evening. The doctor comes with excellent testimonials as to his abilities to detect the deception." Of a good deal more general interest was a report from Chicago concerning the failure of workmen in Chicago to inaugurate an eight-hour day on May 1. There was some rioting and it was reported that the authorities would intervene sternly. It quoted the Chicago Times as remarking that the success of the workers seemed improbable. Despite Dr. Van Vleck, spiritualism continues to flourish and the eight-hour day was won long ago.

A domestic triangle was revealed by The Globe which told of a man named Moore, living in Stanley St., sending his wife for a bottle of whisky. On her return she found him dallying with a damsel. A fight followed; and, being adjourned to the street, neighbors joined in. It raged until a cry of "Police" broke it up. The Globe hinted something about "the green-eyed monster." A Brockville despatch read: "The Hon. John A. Macdonald and Mrs. Macdonald passed up the river today by steamboat. They were warmly received at the wharf by the various applicants for the vacant shrievalty of the united counties of Leeds and Grenville, their wives and children, most of whom accompanied them westward. Mr. Macdonald told the Hon. George Crawford, in a characteristic whisper, that his name was included in the list of senators telegraphed to England." Eighty years ago the Toronto papers were publishing advertisements for the Paris Exposition. Excursion tickets from Toronto to Liverpool and return were $100; steamer, $60. The population of Canada was estimated to be at the time: Upper Canada, 1,840,800; Lower Canada, 1,304,862; New Brunswick, 298,880; Nova Scotia, 372,136.

MAKING BETTER IMPLEMENTS
Through 100 Years..

This type of mower
was built at the Massey
works as early as 1852.

ABOUT 1820 a mower was invented with a circular cutting blade which revolved against the grain, apparently imitating the action of the old scythe blade.

A few years later a mower was invented in the United States which had a sharp knife with teeth moving sideways in a row of iron fingers or guards. The first mower of this type to be made in Canada was produced in 1852 at the Massey works, the little plant which has grown into the Massey-Harris industry of today. And all through its 100-year history this company has been a leader in developing labor-saving farm devices.

The use of modern Massey-Harris farm machines has brought many benefits to Canadian farmers. The Massey-Harris Side Rake and Tedder turns the hay into light, fluffy windrows, so the air can cure it quickly. The Massey-Harris Hay Loader builds a load of well over a ton in twenty minutes. The Massey-Harris Forage Harvester enables a farmer to cut hay at the right time—providing nutritious forage for livestock.

Massey-Harris machines mean speed, large-scale production. They have reduced production costs per acre and have increased the farmer's yearly profit.

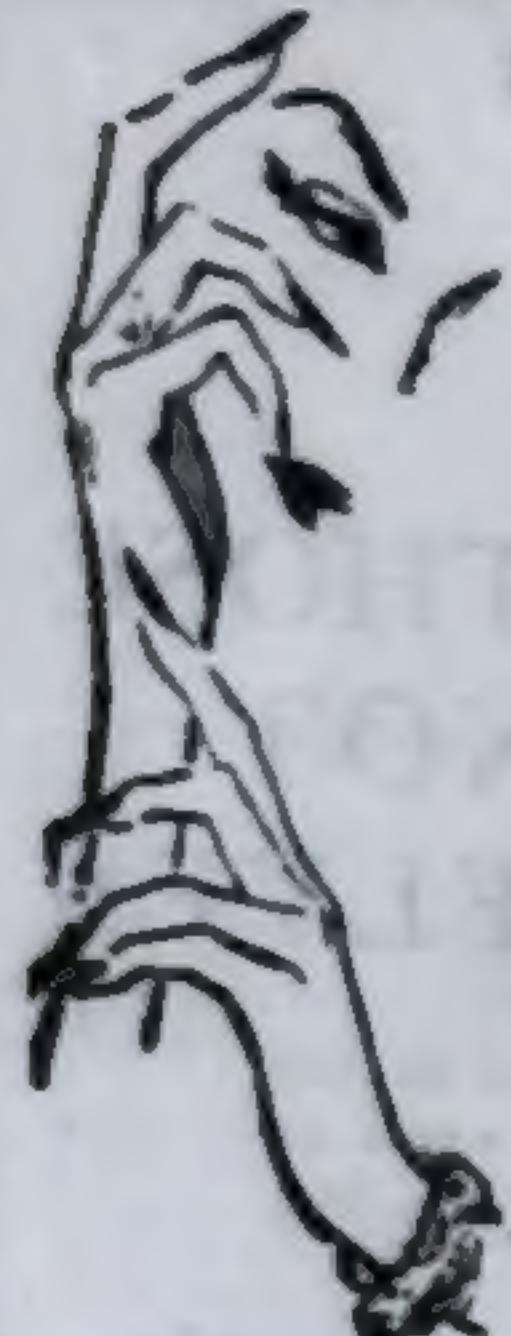

Massey-Harris Company is a division of the International Harvester Company.

FOOTSTEPS OF FASHION

By ALICE ALDEN

JUST WHEN we imagined that the open-toed, sling-back shoe was synonymous with summer footwear, back comes the pump with the closed toe and heel, and we decide that it is perfect after all. Well it is, as Delman does it, in very light weight suede in chalky white, combined with touches of Kelly green snakekin, making for an interesting color combination, since green is so much to the fore this season. A handsome bow tie lends animation to the shoe. It has an easy heel for walking.

By CLAIRE WALLACE

Husbands and wives who belittle or scold each other in public make a serious mistake in etiquette. Besides making other people uncomfortable, it is poor psychology to tear down one's partner before other people.

In early days, when people were not supposed to know as much about etiquette as we do nowadays, wives were polite enough to confine scoldings to "curtain lectures." That is, a wife waited until she had her husband in bed and the curtains drawn all around, and then told him what she thought of him. Thus, the term "curtain lecture" came into being.

A psychologist I interviewed a while ago, gave good tips on how to scold a husband and even make him like it! His instructions were: "Feed . . . Scold . . . Kiss." A man will listen to a scolding more patiently if you feed him well first and he will really try to do better if you kiss him afterwards.

Most often, it is a woman breaks this rule of etiquette and shows ill feeling towards her husband in public. The woman who gives in to it does more harm to herself than her mate. Everyone feels sorry for him and what they think of her is not flattering.

Questions—Etiquette—Answers

CHRISTENING: Helen V., Vancouver, B.C., asks: "I'm invited to a christening. Does that mean taking a gift for the baby? I've already knitted him a sweater."

ANSWER: Yes, an invitation to a christening calls for a gift for the baby, but need not be an expensive one. In older days in Merrie England when a new baby arrived, the parents announced the birth by covering the front door knocker of their home with white kid. When the neighbors saw the decoration, they would troop around with gifts, often a piece of coral, for the new infant. In theory, the coral had two uses: one was to help teething and the other was to bring good luck. Just to be sure of the latter, a couple of bells were fastened to the coral to frighten away evil spirits.

GRACE: Mrs. H.G.C., Burford, Ontario, writes: "Is it all right to ask a guest to say grace at your dinner table?"

ANSWER: Yes, but don't do it on the spur of the moment. Ask the guest, before he is seated at the table, if he will say grace. This gives him an opportunity of refusing if he does not care to take on the duty, or a chance to decide on the grace he will say.

NAMES: An Alberta Club member writes: "In listing our club members and reporting social activities in the paper, should a member be referred to as Mrs. John Doe or Mrs. Elizabeth Doe? It seems our club members have all attained the identity of our first names and not our married names and we wonder if this is correct."

ANSWER: You should always be known and listened and referred to by your husband's name—Mrs. John Doe. In speaking of each other informally, during club sessions, you may say "Elizabeth Doe," but if you use the prefix "Mrs." then Mrs. John Doe is correct. Widows follow this rule, too. Only a divorcee would correctly be referred to as "Mrs. Elizabeth Doe."

ENQUIRIES: Victoria, B.C.: "When writing a business letter to a man we do not know, is it better to address him as 'John Doe, Esquire,' or 'Mr. John Doe?'"

ANSWER: The accepted form of addressing a letter is "Mr. John Doe." In Canada, "Esquire" is used only when a title follows. Example: John R. Doe, Esq., Chief Constable.

Readers are invited to write Claire Wallace about their etiquette problems. Address Claire Wallace, care The Grimsby Independent, Grimsby, Ontario. Replies will appear in this column.

JUST PAST 40, BUT DOROTHY BOSSES $20,000,000 BANK

San Francisco, Cal.—It was a summer evening in the early 1920's. A little Chinese girl of fourteen years, her hair in pigtails, crouched at the door leading to her parents' bedroom. Soon, she heard her father speak. "It's too bad," he said, "that our little girl is not a boy. I've been asked to find a Chinese boy to solicit new accounts for the old French Bank. If she were a boy, I would recommend her."

"But I can do it, even if I am a girl," said Chang Horges, bursting into the room with excitement. "Be silent; forget such foolish ideas," scolded her mother, a dignified Chinese woman whose feet had been bound as a child as a mark of gentility. "It is not for the Cantonese ladies to work," she went on. "You will soon be 18 and it will be time to marry." But Chang Horges would not be silent. For days she coaxed her father. Finally, he agreed to take her to see the bank officials. He was certain this would end the matter. Instead, Chang Horges persuaded the bankers she could solicit accounts as well as any boy. When she left she had the job.

Today you can go to almost any Chinese community in the U.S. and the name Chang Horges—Chinese for River of pearls—is spoken with pride and respect. For she is not only the first Chinese woman bank manager, but probably the only woman bank manager on the continent, if not in the world. As manager of the Bank of America's $20,000,000 Chinatown branch here, once the only all-woman branch in the country, she is banker and business counsel for Chinese merchants all over the U.S., even in Mexico and Central America.

As a Chinese woman, and as a banker, Chang Horges, or Dorothy Gee, as she is known in English, is somewhat of a phenomenon. For not only has she dared to break with strict Chinese tradition that business is no place for women but she has done it so effectively, and her business counsel has so stood the test of time, that her bank is the largest, busiest in San Francisco's vast Chinatown—the largest Chinese community outside China.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

Wong girl calls on him. "I didn't have a girl from the Lee, Chung and Wong families particularly," Miss Gee explained. "I wouldn't have much business. For those are the three big family groups here."

Over the years her reputation as a banker has spread to Chinese communities all over the continent. She now carries on a sizable mail business, particularly in foreign exchange, with Chinese all over the U.S., in Mexico and Central America. "They could do their business in their own communities," she said, "but they prefer to send it here."

Because of her success in business, one might consider Miss Gee a great advocate of women in business. She is not. In fact, her opinions on this question are the exact opposite.

"It is my firm conviction," she said, "that a woman, if she is to be really happy, should marry and have a home and children."

MOUTH BREATHING

Mouth breathing is often the cause of irregular teeth, according to health authorities of the Department of National Health and Welfare.

Doctors point out that young children should be examined regularly by the family physician for possibly diseased or enlarged tonsils, adenoids, or obstructions to proper breathing through the nose. A child should breathe through the nose, to warm the air properly and to sift out particles of dust, etc.

The oldest daughter of a Chinese banker and merchant, Miss Gee was born in Canton. She came here with her parents when she was two years old. As a little girl business was her chief interest. Whenever she got the opportunity she helped in her father's store. By the time she was nine she had taken over the job of cashier on Saturdays. Her formal education was limited to high school, most of which she completed at night school after starting to work for the French bank.

As a banker, she was a success from the first. Armed with a brief case, she went up and down the streets of Chinatown soliciting accounts in competition with men twice and three times her age. She was as aggressive, as persistent as the only way merchants could get rid of her was to give her their accounts. As word of her persistence spread, her accounts multiplied.

"They tell me I was a bit of a nuisance in those days," Miss Gee recalls. "But for a girl of 14 I was soon making a lot of money. My salary was $30 a month, but I made much more on my commissions—$2.50 for each new account."

Gradually, as her business grew, the bank opened up a Chinese section. Soon Miss Gee was handling commercial as well as savings accounts. Finally, when the French bank was acquired by the Bank of America, she was made permanent manager of the branch which was then turned into an all-Chinese bank.

Today Miss Gee prides herself that she still has 50 of the accounts she solicited as a girl. In all, her deposits now exceed $20,000,000 which, as she says, indicates the wealth of Chinatown. "When you consider this figure in relation to the deposits in the five or six other banks in Chinatown the total is sizeable," she adds.

As manager, Miss Gee sits in an open office just inside the street entrance. Her branch has a Chinese atmosphere, with the ceiling decorations in bright Oriental colors. Before the war, her staff consisted entirely of Chinese girls.

On a big blackboard on the wall is the Bank of America's state of consideration, really a statement showing its growth of assets. To encourage the Chinese to read English, Miss Gee has printed Chinese characters opposite the English words and numerals.

"I am afraid," Miss Gee said, "that the figures do not mean much to the Chinese. With them, it is all a matter of face. A person is honest and reliable or he is not. If a customer has 'face,' he cannot understand why I should require a statement of his business before I can give him a loan. Mere figures, they believe, are not testimony to a person's honesty and integrity."

Miss Gee herself would sooner lend money on "face" than on a financial statement, except, of course, that she must observe bank rules. At any rate, because "face" is so important to Chinese, her loan losses are very small.

"According to Chinese custom," Miss Gee says, "a debt of any individual is a debt of his whole family. If the individual does not pay the family does to save 'face.' Debts are never cancelled, even by death. When the head of a family dies, his assets and liabilities are passed on to the oldest son who assumes all obligations, the same as if they were his own."

It has only been in recent years that Chinese merchants would consider going into bankruptcy and then only younger Chinese. "I am not happy to see this trend developing," Miss Gee observed, "not because I am a banker but because it is such a fine tradition."

The Chinese for generations have been people to patronise the businesses of members of their "families"—people with the same name although not always blood relatives. For this reason Miss Gee is careful to have a representative of each of the major families on her staff all the time. If a Lee merchant locates in Chinatown, the Lee bank clerk goes and solicits his business. If the merchant is a Wong, the

SERVOS—MARRIS

The marriage of Rosalie Bernice daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris, to Mr. Peter Thomas Servos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Servos, took place in St. Alban's Church, Beamsville, on Wednesday afternoon, June 18th. The Rev. E. F. Mausell, assisted by the Rev. R. Andrews, officiated in a setting of peonies and bridal wreath. Miss Joyce Howey was the organist, and accompanied Miss Marjorie Brown, who was the soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a charming gown of white nylonette, over taffeta. A circle of white flowers held her veil and she carried a cascade of white sweet peas and pink roses. Miss Leomara Wiltshire, who was her attendant, wore a turquoise nylonette gown and wide-brimmed hat. Her cascade bouquet was of pink sweetpeas and yellow roses.

Mr. Donald Servos was groomsman and usher were Mr. Robert Servos and Mr. Norman Hurst.

Mrs. Harris chose a gown of Queen's blue with black hat and accessories and Mrs. Servos wore powder blue with white hat.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harris and later the couple left for the north, the bride wearing a turquoise and black dress with white accessories. They will reside at McNab.

ESLER—FREEMAN

Pink peonies and carnations decorated Trinity United Church, Beamsville, Saturday for the wedding of Eleanor Margaret, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carmen J. Freeman of Beamsville, and Mr. James Whiteside Esler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Esler, of Belfast, Northern Ireland. Rev. C. M. Currie officiated at the ceremony. The soloist, Miss Jean McKenzie, of Brantford, was accompanied at the organ by Mr. William F. Tufford.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a silver white full gown fashioned with a shirred full skirt and circular train, having a basque bodice and puffed sleeves, the boat neckline trimmed with a wide band of ruching which also accented the skirt. Her long veil was held in place with a Mary Queen of Scots headress, and she carried a cascade of white gardenias and stephanotis.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Gerald Little, of Grimsby, matron of honour, in cameo pink; Miss Irene Davis, of Beamsville, and Miss Margaret Armstrong of Grimsby, the bridesmaids, in heavenly blue gowns, all fashioned alike or faille, with tiered skirts, bustle bows, tiny cap sleeves and sweetheart necklines. They wore head-dresses of natural flowers harmonizing with their bouquets of pink and blue carnations.

Mr. Edward McFadden, of Toronto, was groomsman, and the usher were Mr. C. B. Freeman, of London, brother of the bride; Mr. Robert Clarke and Mr. J. Farquhar both of Toronto.

A reception was held afterward at the Oak Room of the Village Inn Grimsby, 130 guests being present. Mrs. Freeman, the bride's mother received wearing a gown of fantasy gray crepe with orchid flowered hat and corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses. After the reception the bride and groom left for a motor trip to Muskoka. They will make their home at 28 Astley Avenue, Toronto.

For going away, the bride wore a light beige wool suit, with powder blue hat and blouse, her flowers being Rapture roses.

PRESENTATIONS MADE
RETIRING TEACHERS

The library at the High School was the scene of an interesting occasion on Thursday afternoon, when the members of the Board of Education and the High School staff gathered to honor Miss Annie E. Fraser and Principal P. V. Smith, who will retire from their profession at the end of the school year.

Miss Fraser was presented with a hand bag and Mr. Smith with a brief case. Mrs. Smith received flowers. Appreciation of the work of Mr. Smith and members of the staff, was expressed by various members of the Board and best wishes for the future were offered those who will not return to Grimsby next term.

Tea was arranged and served by Mrs. Dowse, assisted by girls of the school, with Mrs. Smith, pouring tea.

Another trouble with a narrow mind is the difficulty one has in wedging an idea into it.

I.O.D.E.

The June meeting of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held on the spacious grounds of Dr. and Mrs. N. Leckie. The first part of the meeting was in the nature of a Pot Luck Supper. It was Dr. Leckie's birthday and the Chapter presented him with a birthday cake in honour of the occasion.

Our new Post War convener, Mrs. G. F. Mitchell reported for the first time on the Food and Clothing parcels sent to the Flood Victims in Great Britain. The response to the call has been most generous both in quantity and quality. Many interesting papers and letters were read from distributors and receivers in Great Britain.

Our Film Convener, Miss G. Calder is leaving and the Chapter expressed their regret and best wishes for her success in her new position in Oakville.

A very successful Tag Day at which over $100 was raised was reported by Mrs. W. Morris, Convener.

A committee consisting of Mrs. L. A. Bromley, Mrs. E. A. Buckenham and Miss A. Crane was appointed to attend to the scroll which our chapter was to place in the Public Library, in honour of all who had served in His Majesty's Forces from Grimsby and vicinity.

Many a man raises a kick because he is forced to kick in.

Obituary

BURTON W. SHANTS

Funeral services for the late Burton W. Shants were held from his late residence, Nelles Boulevard, on Friday afternoon last, and were very largely attended by business associates and friends from all over the peninsula. Several officials of the Ford Motor Co. and British American Oil Co. were in attendance to pay their last respects to one of their most highly regarded representatives for a great many years.

Rev. W. J. Watt of Trinity United church officiated at the house and graveside in Mount Hope cemetery, Waterloo, where interment took place.

Casket bearers were three of his employees, Ernest Mason, Norman Morningstar and Fred Ransbury, Earl J. Marsh, Archie Alton and Russell Terry.

The man who doesn't believe in hell on earth is the one who has never had a touch of neuritis.

TOURISTS DO AND DO NOT NEED RATION BOOK

American and other visitors to Canada do NOT need ration coupons.

1. If they are staying in Canada less than seven days, or
2. if, regardless of the length of stay, they will be eating in public places such as hotels and restaurants.

Visitors to Canada DO need ration coupons if they will be staying in Canada for seven days or more and will be

1. preparing their own meals, or
2. having them at a private residence.

They can get coupons at the customs point of entry in Barrie, Windsor, Fort Erie or Niagara Falls, or at whatever Local Ration Board in Canada is nearest to their destination.

Maybe there wouldn't be so many man-chasing women if the girls did not permit the man to catch them.

Baptist Church

A larger number than for several years attended the Baptist Church and Sunday School Picnic at Simcoe Park, Niagara-on-the-Lake, last Saturday afternoon, June 21st.

The younger department members of the school were transported in a huge truck with a careful, skillful driver and a number of reliable adults to ensure their safety, and probably enjoyed the ride back and forth nearly as much as they did the actual picnic itself.

The weather was more than kind and gave perfectly ideal weather and the picnic ground could hardly be improved on for a picnic of this kind.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris conducted a fine program of sports and games for the younger members of the school and for the ladies who were willing to participate in the more mature, sedate games enjoyed a brisk, keenly fought round of quoit pitching games.

And to round off a "perfect day" a beautiful spread of good things both to eat and drink was provided for and eaten, mostly consumed by the young and more mature alike.

One very unusual feature of the day was the unusually large numbers of both the parents and other members of the congregation, mature men.

BAPTIST Y.P.S.

Peoples' Group of the Youths were the guests of Baptist Chur. F. Branscombe and Mr. and Mrs. a repeat of barbecues were treated with all the usual accompaniments by their attendant and hostess, gracious hosts of succulent sandwiches.

During the social time was a group and many words a pleasure. Gymnastic recreations enjoyed by performed by members of the group which provided pleasure were for the gymnasts and of the group were contented to be sure both astir.

FRUIT BELTERS PLAYING GOOD BALL—There was plenty of excitement at various spots in the FRUIT BELT LEAGUE during the past seven days. The hot spot of them all was the local ball yard on Friday night last when SMOKE McGREGOR and his GRIMSBY LEGION team stacked up against STONEY CREEK. According to all reports this was the best softball fracas that has taken place in the district since before Hitler broke loose. Moundmen for both teams were going great guns and all players were ready on their toes and turning in a terrific brand of speed ball. LEGION capped the event 2-0 and they can lay claim to this win as an unfortunate error made by a CREEKER. Our reporter claims that if it had not been for this error that the game would have gone on until called by darkness. . . . At other spots in the League, STONEY CREEK beat WINONA 4-2 on Wednesday night last. . . . On Friday night BEAMSVILLE is reported as having licked WINONA 15-6; SMITHVILLE took GRIMSBY MT. 11-4; STOP 60 trounced MOUNTAIN 6-2. . . . On Monday night, STOP 60 defeated GRIMSBY MOUNTAIN 6-2.

CHANGES ARE FORESEEN IN PASSENGER PLANES

Planes of the future will give you a safer, more comfortable flight if predictions and suggestions made at an aviation session of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers come true.

Here is the way you will fly on passenger planes of the future, as described by John B. Schwab, accommodation engineer of Trans-Canada Airlines, Dorval, Quebec:

You will sit facing the rear. This will give you a better view and added protection in event of a forced landing. Your seat or chair will be planned for both comfort and safety. A seat which supports your spine and head effectively can protect you against injury when a plane is brought from a speed of 200 miles per hour to a full stop in nine feet.

Because of window arrangements, this seat may not be practical on a chair which would fold on one side and rotate in event of an accident, might be used. The seat would absorb much of the force of a crash. For comfort, your seat will be designed for both sitting and reclining.

You will get a direct flow of fresh air as you fly. Cabin pressure in planes of the future will maintain sea level conditions up to 20,000 feet. With the sea-level pressurized cabin, the pilot will be able to climb above bad weather. This means more pleasant flying and less danger of air sickness.

If you get that cramped-in, trapped feeling in a plane, you may get relief from colors in the plane of the future, with fatigue and strain reduced with color dynamics. Mr. Schwab explained. New plastic materials will help in planning color schemes for comfort.

The airline planes of the future may have two passenger compartments. In front will be the passenger seats. A galley and conference room will be in the centre section with a club section in the rear, including removable tables for cards and food.

Passenger planes may not need sleeper berths, even for transoceanic flights. Sleeper berths take up more space and would require higher fares.

CHILDREN'S EARS
Experiments made in some Canadian schools have uncovered a number of unsuspected cases of defects in hearing. Medical authorities believe that corrective measures for school-age children may save many from lifelong partial deafness. Hearing aids are being used widely to give children with defective hearing a better chance in classes and in life.

ALL THESE Are Needed

IF THE TELEPHONE installer brought along all the things needed to give service to those waiting for it, he would look something like this!

The actual instrument, and the wire he uses to connect the house to the nearest cable, are only a small fraction of the whole installation job.

Back at the telephone exchange unbelievably complicated apparatus connects each telephone with all others, and with Long Distance lines to outside points.

Since the beginning of 1946, we have added 214 telephones to Grimsby's telephone system.

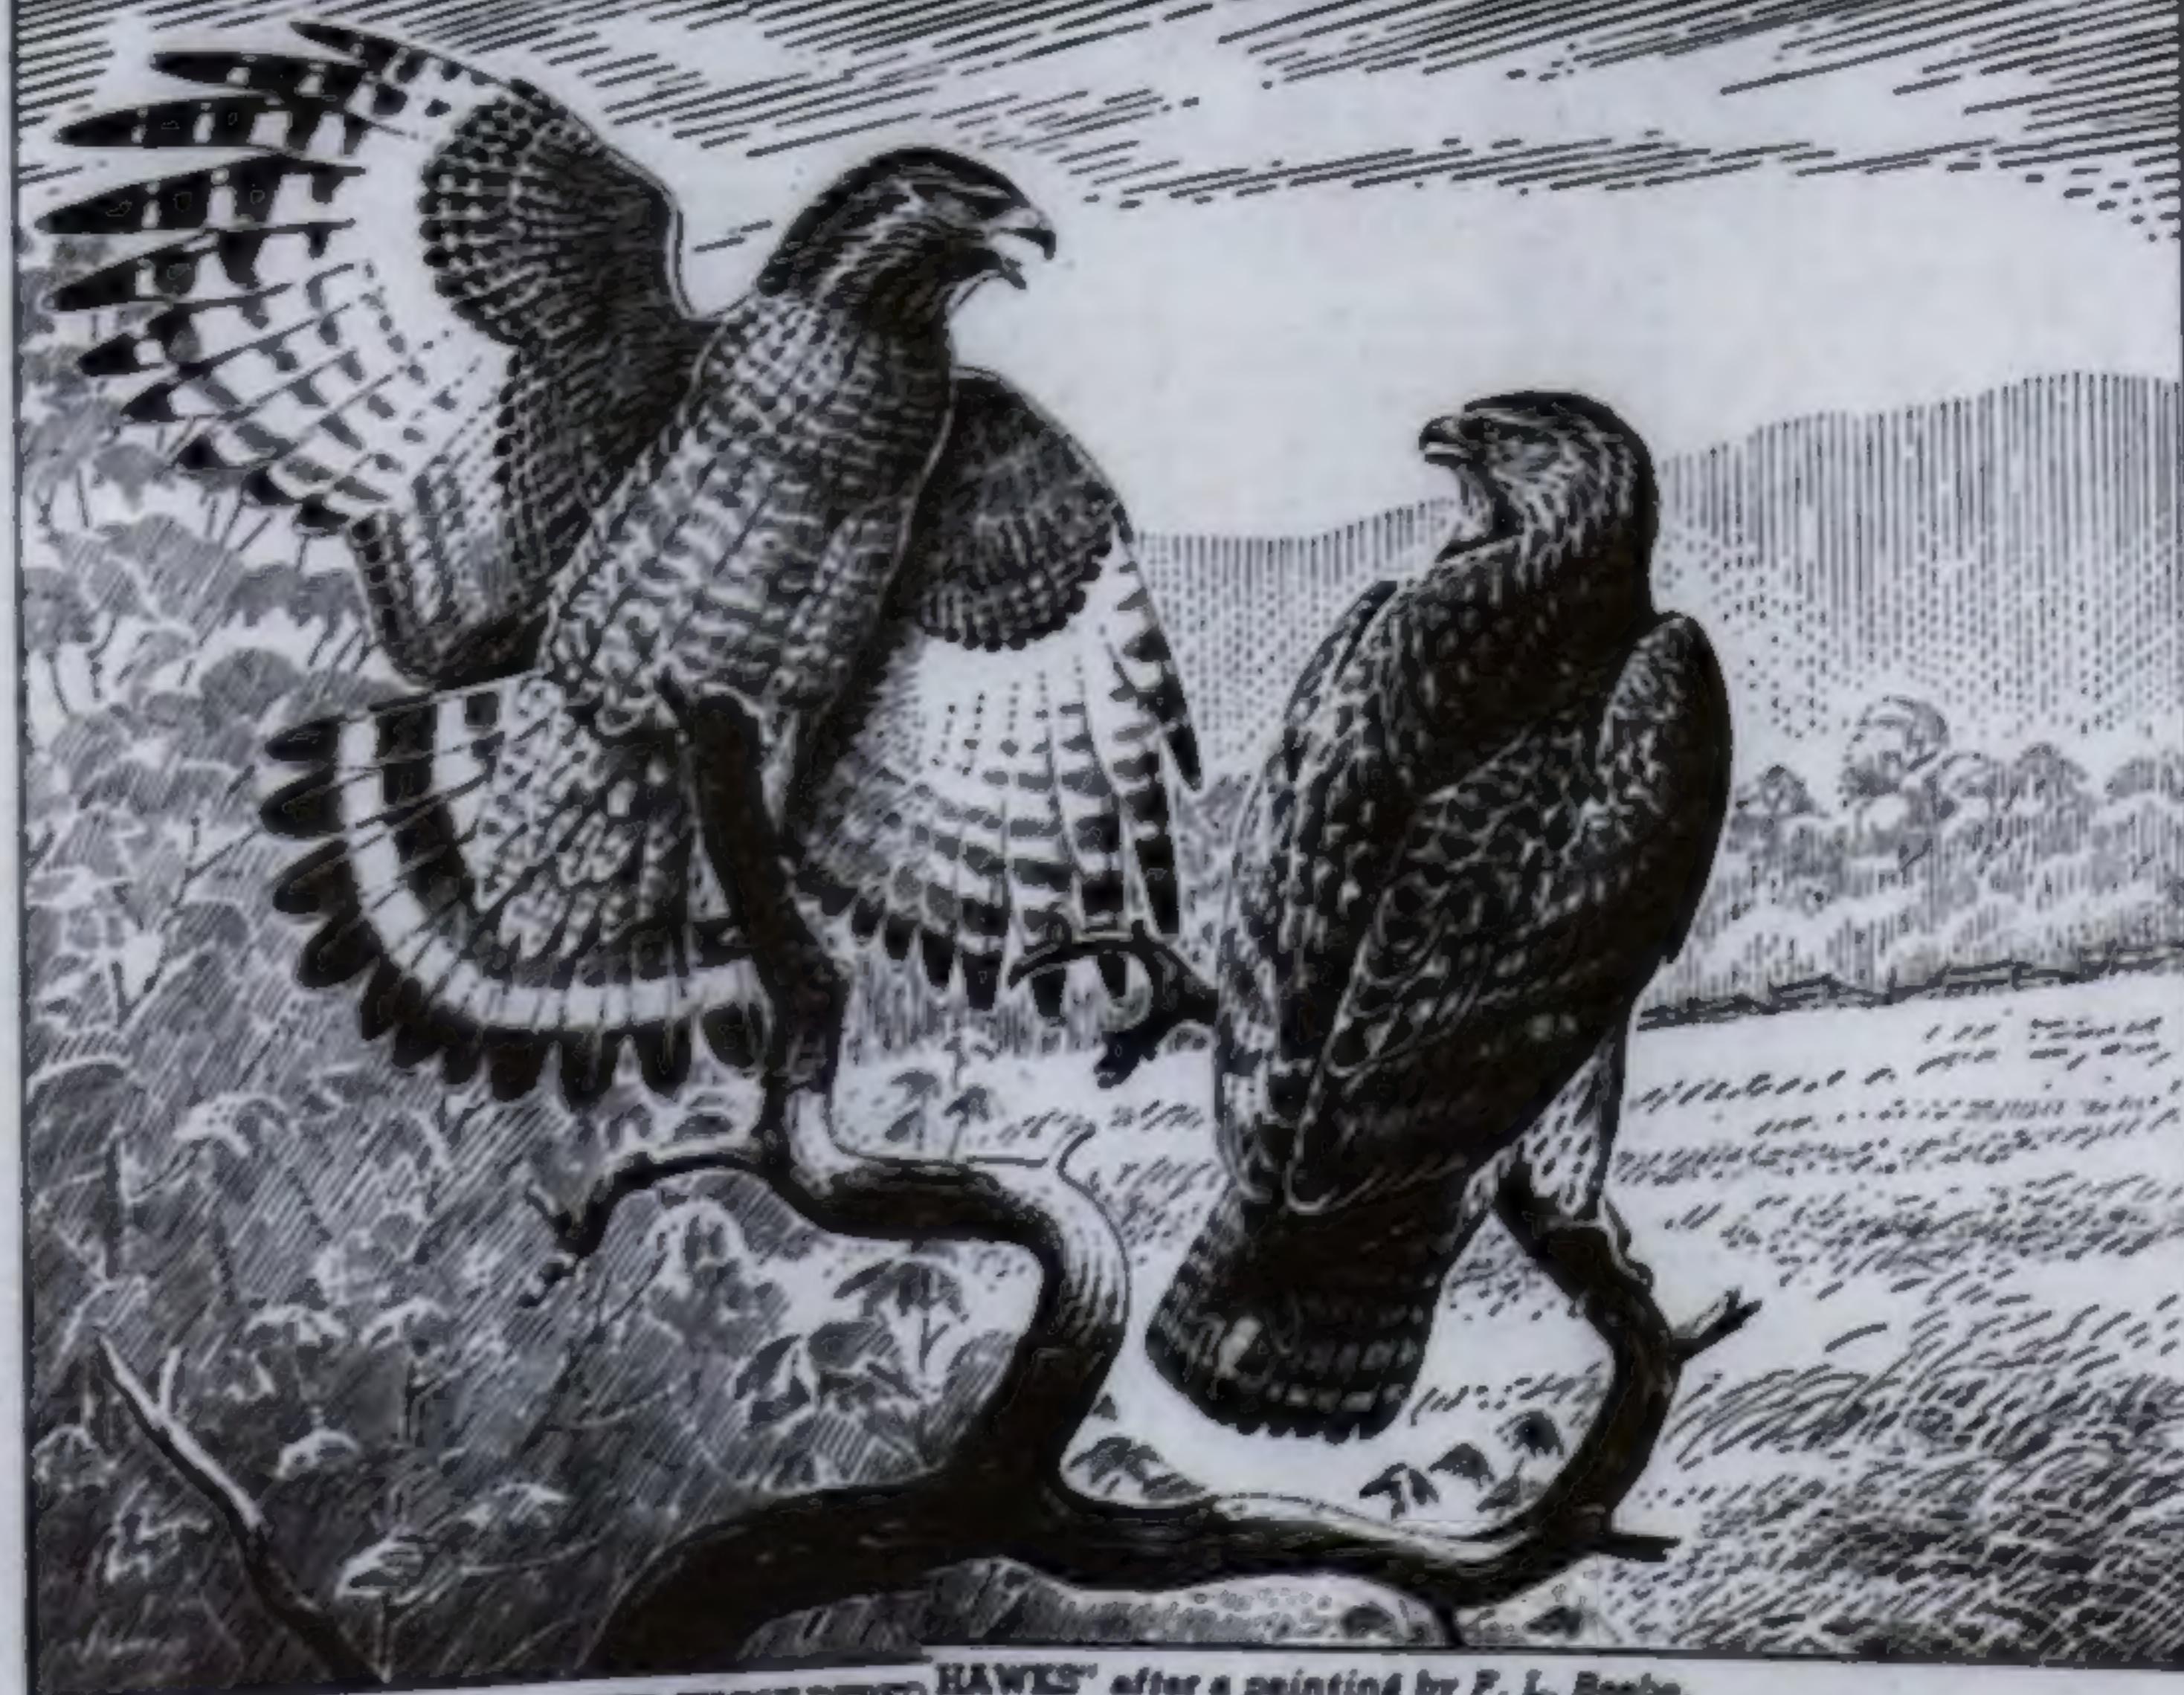

Much has been done—much is being done—to supply telephones to more people than ever before while continuing to provide the best service at the lowest cost.

"RED-SHOULDERED HAWKS" after a painting by F. L. Beebe.

Contrary to popular opinion, the Red-shouldered Hawk is most useful to man, particularly to the farmer. The keen eyes of these hawks are ever on the look-out for field mice, grasshoppers and crickets, which they destroy in countless numbers. Anyone who is familiar with the habits and characteristics of these birds is aware of their great economic value, and encourages them to nest near fields and meadows.

* "Scientific investigations into their feeding habits and the proof obtained by stomach-analyses changed the false notion that all hawks are bad."

* An extract from "Protect These Predators" by Keny Wood, in CARLING'S CONSERVATION DIGEST, Vol. 1, No. 2, published by The Carling Conservation Club.

By educating today's youth in the ways of conservation, teachers can contribute greatly to the cause of conservation.

GRIMSBY MEN FACED

Travis and Ferrie were charged under a public mischief section of the Common Law which makes eavesdropping and actions likely to cause a breach of the peace in offence.

Magistrate Hallett in imposing $5 costs on both men, and binding them over to keep the peace for six months, warned them their conduct was a violation of a law which had been in existence over 500 years.

SAMMY LONHAM COULD equivalent of 525 quart boxes of Grimsby berries. Do you think he accomplished this feat? If he did what would Councillor Sammy Lonham give to have about five pickers like him in his big patch. Would not his worries over pickers be gone for all time.

Apparently on the Coast they pay by the pound for picking, four cents a pound. This had presumably earned $16.00 for 10 hours work. Not bad either, if true.

SPENT 43 YEARS
Chris Andrews, chairman of the Thirty school board of trustees, was in charge of the ceremonies and short address were made by C. V. Hedges, A. G. Richmond, principal of the Beamsville High School, and Principal Mervin Ghent of the Beamsville public school.

The retiring teacher was the recipient of a well filled wallet from the community, also a record player, and from his present pupils, a pen and pencil set.

Presentations of corsages were made to Mrs. Comfort and to Mrs. Walton. A luncheon was served later in the school.

VANDALISM ON THE signs ranging in size from four feet by three feet down to 30 inches by 17 inches have been stolen within the last 10 days.

Last year thieves took 3,700 reflector buttons from signs between Niagara Falls and Hamilton. A recent survey showed 4,000 missing in the same area now.

But officials point out that the vandals are taking signs and all, rather than merely the reflector buttons.

Flares and warning lanterns have also been stolen, he declared. One Toronto motorist, caught in the act of stealing a flare, was fined $20 and costs for his actions.

Most of the trouble has been along the Queen Elizabeth Way, it was stated.

POSTAL FACILITIES the Ottawa Post Office as of July 1, 1947, will be used for all covers received in time for First Day Mailing. The Philatelic Division will NOT handle First Day Covers.

Persons who desire to obtain First Day Covers should send to the Postmaster, Ottawa, the addressed covers intended for First Day Mailing, together with a remittance payable to the Receiver General of Canada) covering the value of the stamp to be used. Personal cheques must be certified or marked accepted by the Bank on which they are drawn, or send by Money Order or Postal Note. If the remitter asks for Mint stamp, as part of the proceeds, the request cannot be complied with and the remittance and unmailed covers will have to be returned to the applicant.

The new stamp will be of approximately the same size and vertical arrangement as the 10 cent Pictorial of 1942 (Scott's No. 256).

If blocks of four are requested to be used on covers, covers affording the necessary space should be forwarded.

ST. CATHARINES WOULD cation, and judgment would be reserved.

If the board approves the city's application to annex 1,300 acres of Grantham township lands, the board's order must be ratified by a special act of the Ontario legislature before the extension of boundaries would be official.

Murton A. Seymour, K.C., city solicitor, was requested by Chairman Coulter to file with the Ontario Municipal Board a draft copy of the proposed order, setting out the exact boundaries of the proposed annexation and the agreements pertaining to assessment which the city proposes to offer present owners of the township lands.

In making the formal application, City Solicitor Seymour said the city's population in 1922 was 21,141, and was now in excess of 35,000 people. For the comparative period, the assessment had increased from $20,131,325 to $32,538,300.

"The field of health work has expanded so greatly in recent years that we are having to spread the supply of nurses very thinly," he stated. He thought that just as many girls were going into nursing as previously, but the expansion of nursing work had created a much larger demand.

"It seems to me that many girls should find the nursing profession attractive and full of opportunity," said Dr. Currey. "It offers not only good training, but is also a fine background for marriage. Many girls leaving high school should be interested in becoming nurses.

SALON BERNARD NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

BAPTIST LEADER

These are a few words about the Chudziks, who are establishing a beauty salon—Salon Bernard—in Grimsby, in the premises formerly occupied by Mrs. N. Bidwell. They will endeavour to supply all beauty services for the women and men of Grimsby and district.

Mrs. Chudzik, Jacqueline, that is, was formerly Jacqueline Cheneau, French Canadian from Montreal. She, therefore, is new to this district, and says Grimsby is "too joli," (very pretty) and she likes it very much.

Jacqueline started hairdressing at an early age. At seventeen she owned and operated a beauty shop in Montreal. When the war came she thought, here was her chance to see the world. In the beginning of '42 she joined the R.C.A.F. and served as a clerk and part time hairdresser until her discharge in late '46.

At the time of her enlistment in the R.C.A.F. her English consisted of two words, hello and goodbye, but in three years she had mastered the English language. Her R.C.A.F. career took her over most of Canada. One of her last posts was in Mont Joli, Quebec, a small village in the Gaspé peninsula, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Chudzik, Bernard, that is, is quite familiar with this district. He was born in the U.S.A., and after a fairly nomadic childhood he and his parents finally settled near the village of Campion, where they have farmed for the past ten years.

Today they are slowly recovering from an unprecedented week-end attack by Sir Stork which brought 24 new arrivals to the hospital between Saturday and Monday. That brought the total for the first three weeks of June to 112 arrivals, compared with 120 for the whole of June last year. But it was the way in which the new citizens arrived which caused the difficulty.

Rather than arriving at well-spaced intervals, the babies chose to make their bows in groups. Things were bad enough between 2 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday when seven babies first saw the light of day—or black of night. But there was a repeat performance yesterday afternoon when another seven arrived between 2 p.m. and 6.30 p.m.

Miss Anne Wright, superintendent, said today that the two batches of seven babies in three hours certainly established a record for intensity at the local hospital. The doctors and nurses were hard-pressed to keep pace with the stork while accommodation was at a premium. The overflow from the maternity wards is being accommodated on the enclosed balconies, she said.

Since January 1 there have been 755 babies born at the local hospital, as compared with 610 during the similar period last year. From all appearances, the total for June this year should exceed the 120 in June, 1946, if things keep on at only a normal rate.

Mont Joli was a very quiet little place and quite isolated, but it took on a rosy hue with the arrival of a certain young lady in the station and then it wasn't isolated enough.

Bernard was shipped back to Camp Borden in Ontario and Jacqueline was left in Mont Joli. After much writing of letters, telegrams, etc. Jacqueline boarded the C.N.R. on D-Day, bound for Barrie.

There they were married. After being discharged, they cast about for some means of livelihood. Logically enough, they decided upon a beauty salon, since Jacqueline had the experience; and the government supplied a course for Bernard.

At present they are attending school under the D.V.A., Bernard to learn the intricacies of beauty culture, and Jacqueline to catch up on modern hair styling and cosmetology.

PROVINCIAL POLICE GREATLY INCREASED

The Ontario Provincial Police, taking over police duties in an increasing number of smaller municipalities, added 82 new constables to the force during the past year and is installing a new frequency modulation radio network that will blanket the whole of Southern Ontario, it was announced last week.

Since the Police Act was passed a year ago 41 municipalities have made agreements for provincial police service. The addition of the 82 new constables to take care of these municipalities has raised the uniformed strength to 612.

RECORD REGISTRATION OF AUTOMOBILES

Registration of motor vehicles in Canada in 1946 totalled 1,610,296, the highest on record, comparing with a 1945 registration of 1,481,326. The Canadian Automobile Association reported on Monday. Highest previous registration was the 1941 total of 1,372,784.

Almost half the 1946 registrations were recorded in Ontario, totalling 711,106, comparing with 642,718 in 1945. Quebec reported 265,573 for 1946 compared with 228,661 in 1945.

Other 1946 totals by provinces: Saskatchewan, 147,944; British Columbia, 147,076; Alberta, 138,103; Manitoba, 97,747; Nova Scotia, 61,276; N. Brunswick, 42,172; Prince Edward Island, 9,628; Yukon, 72.

Last year 60,000 furnaces were manufactured in Canada.

Rev. W. K. Roberts, of First Baptist Church, Brantford, Ont., above, who was appointed new president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec at the annual assembly held in Hamilton, Ont.

JUNE IS BABY MONTH IN THE COUNTY TOWN

(St. Catharines Standard)

June may be considered by most people as the "month of brides," but if you ask the nurses and staff at St. Catharines General Hospital they'll tell you in no uncertain terms that it's a "month of babies."

Today they are slowly recovering from an unprecedented week-end attack by Sir Stork which brought 24 new arrivals to the hospital between Saturday and Monday. If any local women wish to participate in this seasonal work they may secure all information at the Employment Office in Hamilton. Officials there will furnish details as to which canneries, needing help, would be closer to their homes, and the transportation provided.

The women work on a piece rate, but earnings run $3 a day or better.

Brockdale Standard Pansy—126-000—a Jersey cow owned and tested by John M. Lane and Son, St. Anna, Ont., has completed a splendid R.O.P. record. Pansy went on test as a junior four-year-old and in 284 days produced 9,312 lbs. milk, 48 lbs. fat, with an average test of 5.30%.

Alexander Bell of Belleville was killed while walking on the Queen Elizabeth Way, near Burlington, at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday morning. He was presumably struck by a car driven by Frank James of Grimsby. A charge of reckless driving has been laid.
